MATRIX CAPITAL LIMITED

MEETING ROOM TOUCH SCREEN

Project Overview

Matrix Capital are award winning Financial Planners located in the beautiful Shropshire countryside.

Within their meeting room, they had a TV mounted on the wall connected to an external mini PC within a desk unit and back to their server which allowed them to access and discuss files with their clients.

They wanted to upgrade to a more flexible interactive touch screen which would allow better interaction with the files such as annotating over programmes and saving these for future reference.

Note: Room to be decorated and lamp and picture to left of screen being re-positioned centralise to new table

Project Details

Following the initial site meeting, it was decided that the best option was the CleverTouch Pro interactive touch screen, the 55" being perfect for the size of room. The android element would allow them to walk up to the screen and immediately use it as an interactive flip chart with unlimited pages and the ability to not only change annotations and add clippings from external material, but save and recall them for later reference. The slide-in OPS PC meant they could connect to their server and access their windows based programmes, again with the ability to annotate over the top. These could also be save and recalled for updating and reference.

Within the table, a central cubby had power points installed as well as an HDMI Cable link to the screen. However the built in CleverShare devices, part of the CleverTouch Pro solution, also means they and their guests can connect any laptop or wireless BYOD device to the screen for single or up to 4 screen shares at any time.

As they were considering further use of video conferencing to hold meetings with their clients, the Logitech Meetup video conferencing camera was also installed under the screen. This works extremely well with the CleverTouch and offers excellent video and audio collaboration.

" From start to finish, Dennis has always been very professional. He is always very polite and very knowledgeable of the products best suited to our requirements.

I would recommend Phoenix AV Solutions Ltd to anyone looking to upgrade their audio visual equipment"
